Haus Musik's Amanda Smith visits "Classical Mornings"

2018-04-23

By: Liz Parker

Stage director Amanda Smith visited Mike and Jean of "Classical Mornings" to talk about "Haus Musik: the classical alternative". Her vision for this concert imagines art as the answer to life as a lone survivor in the confines of a bunker. The main character's hope is based on a radio and music.

Haus Musik is an experimental performance concept courtesy Tafelmsik Baroque Orchestra, where seating is loose, or the audience can stand, wander, and grab a drink at the cash bar.
